

Atlantic Colleges Athletic Association
Athlete of the Week
Jan 17/07

This week's ACAA Athlete of the Week honours go to Jing Bing Lam of the UNB Saint John Seawolves Badminton team. Lam, a third-year Marine Biology major from Malaysia, continues to be a force to be reckoned with in Atlantic Colleges Badminton. At an ACAA tournament hosted by Nova Scotia Agricultural College in Truro on the weekend, Lam teamed up with Julie Levesque in women's doubles play and once again went undefeated (2-1 win vs. U. Ste-Anne, 2-0 Win vs. Mount Allison, and 2-0 Win vs. UKC Blue Devils). Lam remains undefeated in ACAA doubles play this season. Coach Richard Johnson said, "Jing, with her quick feet and excellent serve, is the glue that holds the team together when the going gets tough," adding that "when she does not put undue pressure on herself to succeed, Jing is a tower of strength." Lam and Julie Levesque blend their particular strengths together to form a formidable doubles team for the Seawolves. Lam is always looking to improve her game, pays attention to detail, and listens to instructions from her coach very well. According to Coach Johnson, "Jing is a very coachable player who puts her team ahead of individual goals."
